POLISH MUSEUM IN DETROIT

(1365) Since 1968, the Polish American Folk Theater has been among the most active Polonia groups in Detroit. It has expanded to include the Galicia Song and Dance Ensemble, the Adam Mickiewicz Polish-American Library, the newspaper 'Pokojs', the Tatry group in Windsor, Ontario, and several language and dance classes at neighboring parishes and community centers. It is now in the midst of its most ambitious project--the formation of a Polish Museum in Detroit. The museum will specialize in the history of the Polish community in Detroit, while at the same time including office space for the resurrected 'Pokojs', for the Mickiewicz Library and for small classrooms for future Polish language, folk art and history classes. Contributions are badly needed, as nearly $50,000 will have to be raised by May of 1978. Contributions may be sent to: The Polish Museum, P.O. Box 12207, Hamtramck, Michigan 48212.

POLISH GENEALOGY

DIRECTORY OF FOREIGN FULBRIGHT SCHOLARS

(1369) The 1977-78 Directory of Visiting Lecturers and Research Scholars is now available. It includes the names of 657 scholars from 67 countries: 322 in the humanities and social sciences, 275 in science and mathematics, 37 in education and 23 in engineering. Copies of the Directory will be sent to Faculty Fulbright Advisers and to other campus offices. A limited number of additional copies is available upon request.

Among the 500-600 visiting Fulbright-Hays scholars from abroad each year there are many who welcome opportunities to participate in programs and meet colleagues on campuses other than those where they are officially located. Each year the Council asks scholars to indicate those interests listing proposed lecture topics; a list is then prepared of Fulbright-Hays Scholars Available for Occasional Lectures. The list (about 110 names last year) contains other information not included in the Directory--more detail on specializations and interests and Faculty Associates at host institutions. The list will be available sometime in November to those who request it in advance. For more information write: Mrs. Mary Ernst, Council for International Exchange of Scholars, Suite 300, 11 Dupont Circle, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.
